

"Terrot's focus is now Asia, especially India and expecting huge market success for Open width machines"

About Terrot & products

Terrot is one of the experienced circular knitting machine manufacturers in the world and we have the complete range of machines for this segment. The company has the largest market share in the high end machines and sales figure for this year has exceeded the last years' figures.

We are displaying S296 in this exhibition which is a very proven model in single Jersey. We are also known very well for double jersey machine. We have noticed a trend that the demand for open width machine and specialised machines are growing in India.

Though open width machine is a bit new for Indian market, it is a proven machine with latest technology and well adopted in the Turkish and Latin American markets. Another machine which we are displaying is 'mattress machine'. This is also a new type of machine for Indian customers but it is already present in a big way in China, Indonesia etc. We are discussing with knitters who are interested to enter home textiles segment and also with the existing mattress manufacturers for this machine.

Briefly, we are showcasing two important machines and sharing our experience with the potential as well as existing customers. Though this type of machines are available from few other suppliers, our machine has 90 feeders and highly flexible and productive. One can manufacture from very light to very heavy fabric on the mattress machines.

Our focus is now Asia, especially India and we are expecting similar market success with the Open width machine.

Indian Market conditions

In general Terrot is very satisfied with the Indian market this year. We have exceeded our sales numbers for this year. But the economic conditions are turning towards a difficult phase, not only for the textile industry but across the industries globally.

This may have adverse impact in the short term. However, we feel, conditions in India is much better than many other countries. On the ITME show, it is still early to comment on it but we had several interesting discussions and meetings. Also, there was good number of trade visitors in the last couple of days.
